WASHINGTON, December 30th.— The Treasury Department has been somewhat agitated over the demands which are pouring into the ears of the officia's from New York for more money, and Sturday morning Secretary Window, and Treesures Has ing Secretary Windom and Treasurer Husosition made by several financial authorities, for the issue of checks for the January interest in advance of the regular period.

He was a personal friend of President Harrison, and was making arrangements to go to Washington next Monday to see about a Federal office promised him. He was a widower and leaves one daughter.

The situation seems to be rather embarrassing, for it involves the premonitation of the future policy of the administration to some degree. The difficulty arises rather paradoxically from the great prosperity of the country in its agricultural and manufacturing fields. In one types money was never freer or more abundant but this conthe country in its agricultural and manufacturing fields. In one types money was never freer or more abundant but this condition exists in every place where the financiers do not care for it to exist, namely, everywhere but in New York.

The discovery of natural gas and of efficient means to convey it from its sources

There is no complaint from producers and merchants of the manufacturing or agricultural districts of the stringency of noney, for in fact they can obtain all the oans they want at reasonable rates, but this unusual prosperity is having its direct effect upon the money market in the great metropolis, and the truth is beginning to ecome evident that an increase in the contry's currency will soon be necessary on order to keep pace with the opening up of so much new producing territory.

One of the causes of the New York tightness is the inability of the railroads to carry the freight that is being heaped upon them in enormous quantities. Cars and trains are blockaded, causing dullness in

ANOTHER LEADING JOURNAL FOR BALLOT REFORM.

Recent elections in America have shown that we have been boasting overmuch of our republican institutions and representative governments. As long as we are unable to devise any means for faithfully recording the will of the people, we have not established among us representative government. When votes can be traded in like corn and wheat, when officers of the election are bought as slaves were bought. the election are bought as slaves were bought under the old dispensation, we do not have a nment, but a plutocracy. So speaks the Courier-Journal, a leading

Our contemporary comes down at last to consideration of the reform system, under which no ballots except those furnished by the State can be deposited, and it gives in its adhesion to the new system as preferable to anything that has preceded it. Its summing up of the reasons for this declaration are, that the ballot is rendered absolutely secret; that the voter is removed the year's series. from the liability of intimidation; that it deprives the purchaser of any assurance that the goods bought are delivered; that it protects the ballot-box from false ballots, or what is generally termed, from ballotbox stuffing.

While it is not disposed to exaggerate the benefits to flow from mere mechanical contrivances, and while it believes fraud will exist under the system, it is convinced that it will immensely reduce the opportunity for it, and that hence it commends itself "to all who are trying to free American institutions from the taint of fraud and

SMITH, REDDING & CO. AWARDED THE

A Hot Struggle Over the Franchise-Mayor Gregory Finds Himself in the Minority.

CONTRACT THEREFOR.

Yesterday was a genuine field day in the strictions incorporated into the franchise City Trustees' room. It was the time set for awarding the contract for lighting the streets of the city for the ensuing two light than the latter now have, their petiyears, and for action on the petition of J. tion is entitled to consideration D. Redding, L. L. Baker, H. G. Smith and A. Lovdal made the point that but one McLaughlin and Wolf, also a strong array of citizens, including several lawyers.

others was read by the Mayor.

A communication from City Attorney Church was also read, holding that the Trustees had not the power to pass an ordinance granting an electric light franchise, or, if it had, that it would be against public policy to do so. Mr. McLaughlin wished to know if the Board had asked Mr. Church for his opin-

Mayor Gregory said he did not know that Mr. Church had been asked, but he was the Mr. Church had been asked, but he was the city's legal adviser, and it was his privilege to advise the Board at all times on legal points.

Wr. Redding thought it unfair to permit a person who had no bid before the Board to step in and discourage the whole matter.

J. D. Redding asked permission to reply to Mr. Church's communication. He held that the Trustees had absolute power held that the franchise color and to grant the franchise asked and to regulate its operations at all times. It had been said that the parties asking the fran-chise intended to sell out to some other company, which was wholly without foun-. They were sincere in their appli-for a franchise, and if granted one, would carry out their enterprise in good

O. R. Leonard made an argument against the granting of the franchise. He held that the Capital Gas Company had kept its obligations with the people, and if it could not make a fair interest on its money the natural result would be that, if another company were permitted to come in, somebody would be pretty certain to sell out. If was impossible to forecast the possibilities of the next fifty years—the time for which this franchise is asked. Electricity is the age the present company in its operations. had invested a large capital here, and

Add. C. Hinkson spoke in a similar strain. He thought it possible that within the next fifty years a franchise such as had been asked for might be worth a great deal of money to the city. The population would not justify the establishment of another company at this time, and consolidation would be necessary. The income of the present company did not exceed 8 per cent., and no company could succeed by furnishing light at less than the present rates. For many reasons it would be unwise to grant the franchise asked for.

Mr. Redding replied to the arguments made against the franchise. He read a petition to the Board asking for the granting of the franchise, and signed by between 200 and 300 business firms and citizens. Three other similar petitions were also presented bearing the names of citizens.

Mayor Gregory said that petitions had little weight with the Board. Only two weeks ago a strong petition was presented in another matter, and last week most of the signers affixed their names to a petition on the opposite side of the question. S. C. Denson, as attorney for the Capital ment against the granting of the franchise He said it would be bad policy to grant a franchise to a company organized and working under the laws of another State. These matters should be within the jurisdiction of our local Courts. There is not room in this city for two electric light plants, and any person investing would doubtless do so with the hope of one company being bought out by the other. Then the public would have to pay all losses by increased rates. The argument of cheap-ness is delusive. Nothing can be produced for less than its value for any length of time, and sooner or later the cheap article

Mr. Redding replied to the point made by Judge Denson, concerning the foreign nature of the corporation whose light it was proposed to introduce. The men asking the franchise were Sacramento citizens, and the proposed company would be com-posed of the men who have asked the franchise. He held that Sacramento was paying as high a rate for light as any place the country, whereas her citizens should have it as cheap as those of New York. Mr. Hinkson again addressed the Board claiming that—as but -nv existed here—the Board has bid from any parties not precarry out a contract at once.

W. C. Clark replied to statements made concerning the possible infringements of patents. He said his company was perfectly secure as far as regards the patents.

B. U. Steinman, President of the Capital Gas Company, addressed the Board briefly on the subject. He said his company was on the ground, and ready to carry out a renewal of the contract, now about to expire. The business was paying only eight per cent. Per annum, and if its property was insured the business would not pay six per cent. He claimed that the bid of his comtent. He claimed that the bid of his comtent to buildoze this thing through he would like to know it. He was a taxpayer and claimed the right to be heard in a matter of the importance of that now under pany was really cheaper than that of the other company.

AFTERNOON SESSION. The Board reassembled at the hour mayor Gregory changed his vote from no named, and on being called to order the to aye, and gave notice that at the next Mayor said the members were prepared for the further consideration of the matter of contracting for city lights. He remarked that the Board had advertised for bids for lighting the city from the 1st of January. There was but one bid before the Board that came within these terms. Mr. Redding said that if given the con-tract his company would be prepared within ninety days to carry out the provisions of the contract.

Mr. Steinman said there was nothing in any ninety days' proposition.

Mayor Gregory said he did not wish to discourage anyone from bringing capital as to arrangement and the abundance of into the city, but he wanted to guard the stock. In the various stalls can be found interests of the city. The present com-pany had been afforded encouragement, and he was willing to give a new company the same as had been extended to others. It was the duty of the Trustees to see that no not business for both, had consolidated. It was the duty of the Trustees to see that no further collusion were possible. There were some things in the franchise asked for that were not in accordance with the public interest. It was provided that the company should have the privilege of handling electricity in any shape—for various purposes—and it was not right to grant so sweeping a franchise. The two former franchises granted by this city allowed the companies to go no further than the erection of poles and wires for lighting purposes only. ALL ABOUT PINS.

The Various Processes from Wire to the Shop Counter.

In the former days it took twelve to fourteen men to make a pin—that is, there were twelve to fourteen processes in its manufacture; each of which was performed separately, and by a different hand, says Good Housekeeping. Now a single machine turns out a stream of pins at the rate of 200 a minute, all ready to be finished. The wire is prepared by drawing it from a large coil on a revolving drum through a hole the size of the pin wanted. The coil, wound another drum, is then suspended at the end of a machine. The wire passes into the machine through a hole and a series of iron pegs, which keep it in place and straighten it. A pair of pineers, moving back and forth, pull it along and thrust the end through a hole and asseries of iron pegs, which keep it in place and straighten it. The pincers, moving back and forth, pull it along and thrust the end through a hole in a small iron plate, on the further side of which a little hammer beats a tattoo on the end of the wire, and so forms the head of the pin. Next a knife descends and cuts off the pin to the proper length. The pin falls into a groove or slot, through which the heads cannot pass, and is thus suspended so that the lower or point end is exposed to she action of a cylindrical file, which has both a revolving and a lateral motion. By the time the pin has passed this file it has a smooth, sharp point, and is a complete pin so far as shape is concerned. These processes are all performed with such rapidity that the pins fall in a constant stream from the end of the machine. They are next put in quantities into revolving barrels which are turned until the pins and rels which are turned until the pins are seoured and cleaned. Next they are boiled in an acid in which a fine powder of tin has been put, and they emerge from this
